A New Chapter for John XXIII Montessori Children's Center

In grateful memory of one of our greatest supporters—a kind and generous man with the heart of a child—we have inaugurated a permanent financial aid fund: The Chris N. Cuddeback Memorial Fund. We hope you will be inspired to further this important work that Chris loved with a substantial one-time or monthly donation to this memorial fund for the children.

And if you act soon, your gift will be matched dollar for dollar due to a generous matching grant from Chris's wife, Carol.

John XXIII Montessori Center, Inc. is a 501(c)(3) equal opportunity program which admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin and does not discriminate in the administration of its admissions, scholarships, employment or general policies.

Come & See Us!

You are invited to visit the thoughtfully prepared and integrated Montessori and catechetical environments at our beautiful White Oaks Farm campus!

Brimming with possibilities, our expanded facility has the potential to help us more fully realize our mission to provide for the spiritual, academic, physical, emotional and social development of each child we serve.

If you cannot visit in person, please visit us online at john23mcc.org to learn more.

John XXIII at White Oaks Farm

Toward a new home

Chris and his wife, Carol, began John XXIII’s building fund in 2009. Their gift launched our search for a new home; one that would offer a rich environment for prayer and academic progress; one that would nurture the needs of the whole child—spiritual, physical, emotional, and social. Chris’ dream and our dream became a reality with the move to White Oaks Farm in 2015.

Our new farm location provides numerous additional opportunities for families and children, and we are growing as a result! Yet we would like these opportunities to be available to all families seeking the formative experiences at John XXIII for their children, regardless of financial means.

Since 2010, more than $25,000 has been awarded each year to families in need of financial assistance. These funds have been raised through our popular spring fundraiser, SlowFoodVastWine™. Yet as our enrollment and prospects continue to grow, we clearly see the need for a fund to secure opportunities for families who would benefit from all the Center has to offer.

Our Board of Directors has set before us the challenge of meeting the needs of every applicant family with financial limitations, while offering the highest quality education possible. We invite you to join us in meeting this challenge.

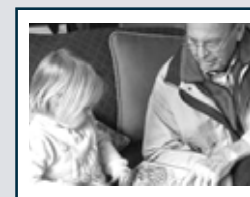

A Montessori Educator at Heart

For the greater part of his adult life, Chris Cuddeback worked to support and promote authentically Catholic education.

He served on the Board of Mt. De Sales Academy in Baltimore and Christendom College in Front Royal, VA. His appreciation for the Montessori method and philosophy, which is based on a fully Catholic vision of the human person, spanned over 40 years.

A frequent visitor at John XXIII Center, Chris delighted to share in Grandparent Days, Open Houses, and joyful presentations by the children of their projects and reports.

He knew how to encourage the innate gifts of each person he met, young and old.

Chris believed deeply in the priceless opportunities for spiritual and academic growth the Center provides to the community.

When speaking to founding Board members of the possibilities presented by John XXIII’s growth and programs, Chris gave advice and encouragement, making a pledge of both financial and heart-felt support: “This community needs this program,” he said. “And I want to support this work!”

If you share this vision and would like to support this work, please send in this tear-off with your 100% tax-deductible donation.

We thank you for your support!
